

Call for Nominations: The 2008 ASysT Applied Systems Thinking Prize

The Applied Systems Thinking Institute (ASysT) is pleased to announce the establishment of the ASysT Applied Systems Thinking Prize. The ASysT Applied Systems Thinking Prize is an annual award for a significant accomplishment achieved through the application of systems thinking to a problem of US national significance in the area of national security, homeland security, energy, environment, health care or education. The 2008 Prize will be a monetary award of $20,000 to an individual or team.

The purpose of the Prize is to advance the development, understanding, and application of applied systems thinking in domains of national significance.

Nominations are currently sought for the 2008 ASysT Applied Systems Thinking Prize. Deadline for nominations is April 24, 2008. Complete details on the Prize, the selection process, and the nomination form are found at www.asysti.org/prize. For questions regarding the Prize, please contact ASysT at prize@asysti.org.
